About Me

An experienced film and media production freelancer, specializing in script supervising and producing. I have substantial experience as a script supervisor and producer for nine independent projects across Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and New York. I produce quality content with thorough knowledge in all stages of the filmmaking process; i.e. pre-production, production, script writing, shooting, editing, and promotion of digital content. My objective is to solely focus on script writing, storyboarding, producing, and editing.
